Capital murder trial to begin

Boswell faces death penalty in 2003 killing of infant

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

Jury selection for the trial of a man accused murdering a 10-month old infant will begin on Monday morning at the Hancock County Circuit Court. James Michael Boswell, then 19, of Bay St. Louis, was arrested on March 6, 2003, and charged with the capital murder of Alexis Nephew, a 10-month-old baby girl.

When authorities responded to a medical emergency at 208 Carrol St. on the morning of March 6, 2003, they found Boswell attempting to resuscitate Alexis, who they observed had bruising to the facial area. Fire Rescue attempted to take over medical treatment, but were unable to save the child. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Hancock Medical Center.

Pearlington residents raise stink over sewer

Officials say rumors of misdeeds are false

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Phase 2 of the Pearlington collection system, which includes the Kelly Rd. area south of Hwy. 90 and the 7th St. area north of Hwy. 90 will likely get underway around June if all goes well, said Compton engineer Bob Echer. Rumors that it already underway are false, said Echer.

The work people have seen going on along a section of Kelly Rd., said Pearlington Water and Sewer Board member Ronnie Cuevas, "is most likely the work being done to clean out a ditch in front of my aunt's property."

Echer said a breakdown in negotiations to locate the pumping station for Phase 2 in the Stennis Buffer Zone have resulted in another holdup for the project. Negotiations are underway to buy the third of an acre needed for the station from a private owner and should be wrapped up shortly, said Echer.

Rumors have also circulated that Phase 2 is the first phase to come to construction because board member Ronnie Construction on the old Cuevas Grocery in Pearlington will get underway as soon as plans for a wastewater treatment system are finalized, said new owner Rocky Pullman on Friday. The store burned, and remained vacant for over a year, negating the grandfathered septic system already on the site.

Pullman said he had met with representatives from a Jackson-area company about installing an onsite underground system. The system would process waste water on site, Pullman said he was told. They have taken soil borings and should have an answer on a system that could be approved by the health department by Monday. The system would cost around $10,000.

If that does not work out, Pullman said he will go ahead with plans to install a 40,000 gallon holding tank at the site. The tank would be pumped out as needed by a certified and bonded company.

"The use at the store will not be that large," he said. "Just for a couple of public rest rooms and a kitchen/deli."

Big plans in Waveland

An artist's rendering of the $6 million marina proposed for the foot of Coleman and Terrace Avenues in Waveland. The 175 slip marina would cater to vessels from 35 ft. to 75 ft. that planners hope would be housed at the facility year round. If the marina can be kept full it will bring around $391,000 in added income to the city each year. The marina would cost around $100,000 to operate each year. Waveland readies for Lowe's store

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

More large scale economic development is slated for Waveland. Scheduled to open there in February of 2006 is a new Lowe's, said Mayor Tommy Longo Friday. The store will be located on property between the Kmart at Hwy. 90 and Hwy. 603 and DeRussy Motors on Hwy. 603.

"We've met with engineers and representatives from the store," said Longo. "They are a very willing group to work with, very open minded and easy ... they are interested in doing everything they can to make sure that the job is done right in the best interest of the community. This will be another shot in the arm for Waveland."

The approximately 194,000 sq. foot store will feature a larger than usual outdoor home and garden section, said Longo. Planners have added extra parking to accommodate both trucks and trailers or families in RVs who may want to stop by to shop.

Right now planners are finalizing plans for drainage, site plans and storm water runoff, and finalizing permits, said Longo. Site preparation should begin any time, he said.

U.S. Coast Guard, DMR to co-host Commercial Fishing Safety Fair Tues.

The Coast Guard, in cooperation with the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) and the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), is sponsoring a commercial fishing safety fair at the Pass Christian Harbor on Feb. 15 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Commercial fishing has been identified as one of the most dangerous occupations in America. The goal of the fair is to provide fishermen with information not only to make them safer as they ply their trade, but also to keep them legal. This will be accomplished through a variety of demonstrations and activities.

One of the more interesting demonstrations is the damage control trainer. This device gives fishermen the opportunity to try their hand at effecting emergency repairs should their vessel start taking on water. The damage control trainer uses water pressure to simulate a ruptured pipe or hole in the hull. Rain suits will be provided to those brave enough for this undertaking. Fishermen will also be given the opportunity to fire flares just like the ones they are required to carry on their boats.

Representatives from the Coast Guard Marine Safety Office in Mobile and New Orleans will be on hand to test emergency position indicating radio beacons (EPIRBs). EPIRBs are devices that can send a distress signal to satellites, giving rescuers a pinpoint location and other critical information about the boat. There will be static displays of all the equipment required on commercial fishing boats and representatives to answer any questions related to the equipment.

The Coast Guard will have 4 fishing vessel examiners available to conduct free courtesy dockside examinations both during and after the fair. Michael White, the Coast Guard Eighth District Commercial Fishing Vessel Safety Coordinator, emphasizes the importance of these examinations on two fronts. "First, they give the fishermen the opportunity to discuss at length safety equipment requirements and safety procedures with the inspectors. Secondly, once the boat has passed the inspection, it is awarded a decal to be displayed on the exterior of the boat."

"Earning the decal brings important benefits to our fishermen. If the boat is kept in the condition that it was in when it was awarded the decal, it is a guarantee that the fishermen will not get a ticket for safety equipment issues," says Paul Barnard with the Coast Guard Station in Gulfport. "If we are patrolling a fleet of fishing boats we will board those boats without decals before we board those with them."

Both the state and federal government have a role in regulating fisheries. Experts from DMR and NMFS will be available throughout the fair to answer any state or federal law specific questions or inspect any fishing gear for compliance.

The public is invited to attend and the fishing community is urged to participate. White says, "This could literally be a life saving experience for our mariners. Couple that with a guarantee of not getting a fine and you have definite win-win situation for the fishermen." This is an outdoor event and will be postponed if poor weather is forecast. Call the Coast Guard Station in Gulfport at 228-868-3743 with any questions.

A Bay St. Louis and a Waveland resident were arrested on Feb. 4, in connection with the illegal sale of prescription drugs, according to Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force directors Waveland Chief Jimmy Varnell and Bay Police Chief Frank McNeil.

"John 'Jay' January III, 35, of Bay St. Louis was arrested and charged with sale of a controlled substance, (hydrocodone), when he checked in with his probation officer for a previous conviction. Also Kermit Rush, 41, of Waveland, was arrested at his 'Pine Shadows' Apartment and charged with two counts sale of a controlled substance, (hydrocodone,

Both January and Rush are being held without bond. January is being held due to violation of his probation with the Mississippi Department of Corrections. Rush was out on bond when arrested for a previous possession of a controlled substance, the chiefs said.

"Agents were able to purchase large amounts of prescription painkillers from Rush, who was selling the narcotics from his residence while his rent was subsidized by U.S. Government funding, (Section 8 housing)," Varnell and McNeil reported.

January is being held pending a probation violation hearing. He will also have a preliminary court date at Waveland Municipal Court for the new sale of a controlled substance.

And a preliminary hearing is scheduled in Waveland Municipal Court for March 10 for Rush, whose new bond has being set at $20,000, the report stated.

Detective Ian Estorffe is handling both investigations.

Bond set at $110,000 for 18-year-old alleged dealer

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

Publisher Emeritus

A Waveland man has been lodged in the Hancock County Criminal Justice Facility in lieu of a $110,000 bond in connection with alleged drug violations, according to Waveland Police Chief Jimmy Varnell and Bay St. Louis Police Chief Frank McNeil.

"Following a six-month undercover operation, agents with a secured search warrant for a Favre St. residence, served it on Feb. 4. Russell Hill, 18, was arrested and charged with four counts of sale of a controlled substance and three counts of possession of a controlled substance with intent to distribute," the chiefs of the Bay-Waveland Narcotics Task Force reported in a news release.

Hill was charged with four counts sale of a controlled substance including, sale of hydrocodone, sale of Xanax and sale of marijuana. He was also charged with charged with possession of controlled substance with intent to distribute including hydrocodone, Xanax and marijuana.

The undercover operation came as agents received numerous reports of illegal drug activities at the residence. Agents and other law officers also witnessed and abundance of drug dealers and users entering and exiting the residence. Many of the drug dealers have also been observed loitering in the roadway in front of the residence, the chiefs said.

During the search of the residence, agents discovered prescription painkillers, marijuana and a large amount of paraphernalia inside the residence, the chiefs reported.

An initial hearing for Hill is scheduled March 10 in Waveland Municipal Court.

McNeil and Varnell said, "Agents believe the arrest will make a serious impact on the sale of prescription painkillers in the Bay-Waveland area. Also, agents have already targeted the supplier ... and plan on continuing the investigation."

Cuevas' Quotes

Happy Valentine's Day to everyone

Will it be chocolate, candy, roses, a candlelit dinner, romantic gift, a card, or something special for that special person in your life tomorrow, Valentine's Day.

One of the stories I have been able to find on Valentine's Day is the following. You may not know that the holiday first originated in the Church as a tribute to St. Valentine, a Catholic bishop.

A romantic crusader, St. Valentine secretly married young couples during a time when marriage was banned in Rome.

He was sentenced to death for doing this, and while imprisoned, Valentine fell in love with the blind daughter of his jailer.

His love for her was so great, it freed her from her blindness. Before being taken to his death, he signed a farewell love note to her, "From your Valentine," which we continue to say on his day.

Anyway, I wish that everyone will have a Happy Valentine's Day tomorrow.

Congratulations are in order for Jim Collins, a longtime resident of Bay St. Louis, will be inducted into the Goodwill Industries International Hall of Fame later this month in New Orleans.

Collins, who is the former CEO of Goodwill of Southeastern Louisiana, from 1970 to 1997.

Even since his retirement as CEO of Goodwill in Louisiana, Collins still serves Goodwill in our area.

Collins is the Director of Marketing and Community Relations for Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi.

As many of you know, Goodwill began over 100 years ago by Methodist Minister Rev. Edgar James Helms, who conceived the idea of putting people to work by recycling and selling used clothing and other items.

Today, Goodwill continues to do the same things in addition to many others, in order to give opportunities to persons with disabilities.

I have known Collins for several years and I have seen much of his work with Goodwill of South Mississippi, as I am a member of that board.

Jim is still doing a great job for Goodwill and is very deserving in being named to the Goodwill Industries International Hall of Fame.

Congratulations again Jim.

Campaign finance reform reborn

In recent years we've heard a lot from the media and political pundits about "soft money," basically the large dollar contributions made by individuals, corporations and unions to political parties, rather than to individual candidates. Up until a few years ago, the parties would then spend this money to influence the federal election process, creating a large loophole in our campaign finance system.

its detractors about the perceived evils of this "soft money" system, that Congress passed the McCain-Feingold campaign finance bill to do away with soft money. Through no fault of the sponsors, the legislative fix didn't work. Three years later it's apparent that McCain-Feingold has failed to extinguish soft money. More money was spent during this past election cycle than any other in history. Soft money has simply shifted across the street, from the established political parties to shadowy "527" groups, named for the section of the IRS code which provides them tax exempt status. Some of these organizations disguise themselves as "non-partisan," but they actually spend tens of millions of dollars trying to influence federal elections by attacking or advocating on behalf of individual candidates. The abuses of some 527 groups have become so pointed that Senator John McCain of Arizona, myself and a host of other Senators have introduced legislation to correct the original McCain-Feingold bill's unintended consequences. Our 527 reform bill would level the playing field for all participants in the federal election process. Right now, some 527s are permitted to raise unlimited soft money while others are not. Some 527s register with the Federal Election Commission and are subject to disclosure regulations while others do not. The list of inconsistencies is long. Our bill would ensure fairness by requiring every organization claiming a 527 exemption that wishes to influence a federal election to register with the FEC and report its activities, just

Bay Council did not act appropriately

To The Editor,
In September 2001, I wrote a letter to the City Council of Bay St. Louis complaining about the rampant and profuse overgrowth at 127 Felicity St., clearly, a violation of City Ordinance No. 382. I was told by Councilman Seal that the council agreed with my complaint, but was advised by a city attorney, Don Rafferty, not to enforce the ordinance because he did not want the litigation and publicity. A public hearing on this issue was held Nov. 20, 2001 to determine if the property should be declared a menace to public health, safety, and welfare due to overgrowth. The council unanimously voted against this motion, a motion which they had fabricated. They had ignored my complaint. I considered this an obstruction of justice. In November 2004, I wrote a second letter to the city council with the same complaint, and expressed my opinion that the actions at the earlier council hearing constituted an obstruction of justice. Copies were sent to the Mayor and the City Attorney of Bay St. Louis. A second public hearing was held on Dec. 21, 2004. The city attorney, John Scaife, was present. I quote the following from the minutes of that meeting: "Mr. Scaife stated that the council does not have the authority to determine whether or not the property is in violation of Ordinance 382, adding that the court system would have to determine that issue. He further stated that the council does have the authority to determine whether or not the property is a menace to the public health, safety, and welfare within the city limits of the City of Bay St. Louis; so the motion the council made at the November 2, 2003 (should read November 20, 2001) meeting to not declare the property a menace was the correct motion for them to make. Mr. Scaife stated that Mr. Ketchum would have to file an affidavit with the court." He then apologized to me for not being so advised.

Why would the council have the authority to determine that a property is a menace to public health, safety, and welfare, but not have the authority to determine if the property is in violation of Ordinance 382, which, clearly, was adopted by the council to prevent a property from becoming a menace to public health, safety, and welfare. I sense that the second public hearing was held so that the city attorney could mitigate or justify the inappropriate actions of the council during the first public hearing. If it is true that I have to file an affidavit with the city court to get a fair hearing on this issue, why was I not advised of this in September 2001 when I lodged my initial complaint with the city council? There was absolutely no reason for the city council to hold two public hearings concerning an issue that they apparently have no control over. It is my opinion that the city council fabricated the motion "to not declare the property a menace to public health, safety, and welfare due to overgrowth" so that they could avoid enforcing City Ordinance No. 382. The city council has been extremely remiss in their dealings with me. I am tired of being their doormat. My involvement and observations in this matter have led me to believe that certain people in the City of Bay St. Louis are receiving preferential treatment. The city government of Bay St. Louis is in desperate need of new blood.

Lon, Jack and Joe Hannah are the Sons of the Joaquin, an acclaimed cowboy harmony group that will perform at the Arts Under the Dome on February 17.

Arts series presents 'cowboy harmony'

BY BENNIE
SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Arts Under the Dome will present its second concert performance by cowboy harmony group Sons of the San Joaquin, on Saturday, February 19, at 7 p.m. at the First Methodist Church on 15th St. and 24th Ave. in downtown Gulfport.

The trio, two brothers, Joe and Jack and Joe's son

Lon, come from the central valley of California and grew up in an atmosphere dominated by large cattle ranches and the Sierra Nevada Mountains. The two older men gained their appreciation of cowboy melodies from their father who loved groups like the Pioneers of the 1930's. He'd sing the songs at home and teach them to his sons. Brother's Joe and Jack also sang in church choirs.

It was actually Lon who got the group started when he approached his father and uncle with the idea of singing at his grandfather's birthday celebration. The group was born, with its first big performance at the Elko Poetry Gathering in 1987. They went from total obscurity to sensation after sharing the main stage with singer Michael Murphy, who invited them to perform on an album.

Since then the group has released several albums of original material and favorite gospel hymns, as well as silver screen cowboy favorites. In 2002 a new recording, 15 Years-A Retrospective, represents a cross section of the groups most requested material. Today the trio plays to sold-out concert halls.

like our national political parties do. Thus, 527s would be subject to the same regulations which govern soft money contributions to political parties.

As many of you know, I was never a cheerleader for the original McCain-Feingold bill. I was one of 41 senators who voted against it because I believed it would lead to even bigger problems, and my worst fears have come true. Today without immediate reform, 527 groups are poised to have an exponentially negative effect on our federal election process. By 2008 they are expected to pump up to a billion dollars into unregulated political attack ads. We cannot allow these loosely-regulated groups to set the issue agenda for our nation. If anyone should be setting the agenda, it ought to be the candidates and the political parties they represent - not individual billionaires with their own pet 527s.

Our 527 reform bill isn't perfect, but it's a start. In fact, I'd prefer we would enact a solution for campaign finance reform like the so-called "Virginia Plan" where there would be no limits on political contributions, but full and instantaneous disclosure for all to see. After all, the light of day really is the best disinfectant for campaign finance abuses. But, short of that, the 527 reform bill we've introduced is the best hope for curtailing 527 abuses and getting political power back into the hands of the people - ordinary folks who don't have enough money to start their own 527 group, but who want to support their candidate and their community through legitimate, fully-disclosed political activities.

In fact, as we lessen the improper influences of 527 organizations, I hope we look at strengthening America's political parties. The political parties have been part of American democracy for over 200 years, and they've continually evolved to represent the current ideology and enduring ideals of our candidates and most Americans. Some parties, like Republicans and Democrats, have endured. Some others, like Whigs and Bull Moose, have not, in a system where a political party's existence is dictated solely by whether its platforms have mass appeal to voters. That's the way it ought to be - a national agenda set by what voters as well as the parties (and candidates who represent them) decide, instead of what one individual with a lot of cash and a tax exemption can dictate.

Senator Lott welcomes any questions or comments about this column. Write to: U.S. Senator Trent Lott, 487 Russell Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 (attn: Press Office)

Bay sweeps Pass; SSC falls to HCHS

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The Bay High Tigers swept the Pass Christian Pirates on the hardwood on Thursday at Pass Christian. The wins by both the girls and boys also completed the season sweep for the Tigers over the Pirates.

In the girls game, the Lady Tigers (26-1, 10-0) made their #1-seed in the division tournament official with an 82-48 win.

The two teams were in a close game at the end of the first period with Bay High holding a slim 18-15 lead. However, a 14-0 run over the final 3:29 of the first half put the game out of reach for the Lady Pirates. Bay High enjoyed a 47-16 lead at intermission.

Bay High head coach Debbie Triplett stated, "We started out a little sluggish. However, when we increased our defensive pressure, we were able to get some easy transition baskets and got our tempo going. Our rebounding and passing were solid."

Kendra Reed led Bay High with 24 points followed by Destiny Porter with 19 points, Whitney Gladney 12, and Tamara Reed and Sara Gilmore with 11 points each.

Shallon Swanier led Pass Christian with 9 points.

In the boys' game, it was a much closer game until late in the third period when the Tigers began to pull away for their 51-39 win.

With the win, the Tigers staked their claim to the #2-seed in the division tournament which begins on Monday.

Bay High held a slim 11-9 lead over the Pirates after the first period.

The two teams battled in the second period behind the play of Brandon Miller for Pass Christian and Braxton Rockwell of Bay High. The two teams were tied 22-22 at halftime.

The Tigers (13-16, 8-4) opened the third period with a 15-4 run that sealed the win. During the run, George Easley scored 7 points and Lorenzo Lewis added four points.

Bay High head coach Alan Lumpkin stated, "The big difference in the game for us was our shot selection. We took good shots and made them. We executed ed well on both sides of the ball. This was probably the best that we have played as a team all year."

Braxton Rockwell led the way for the Tigers with 16 points followed by Lorenzo Lewis with 12 and George Easley with 10 points.

Chuckie Woods paced Pass Christian with 11 points followed by Brandon Miller with 10 points.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws lost their first game to a Mississippi team on Friday, February 11th when they fell 77-65 to the Harrison Central Red Rebels in Lyman.

The Rocks fell behind early in the first quarter 21-4 and were never really able to recover. The first half ended 46-19 in favor of Harrison Central.

SSC came out on fire in the second half as they reeled off 10 unanswered points capped by Michael Cure's trey that narrowed the lead to 46-29.

Mike Rice continued the Rock surge in the fourth quarter with four consecutive baskets in the paint with layup by Cure that cut the lead to 68-59 with 3:30 left in the game.

However, an old-fashioned three-point play by Jerome Thompson with less than a minute remaining sealed the Rocks fate giving the Red Rebels a 74-65 lead.

The Pass Christian Pirates defeated the East Central Hornets 70-45 on Friday night to claim the #3-seed in the division tournament.

Chuckie Woods scored 17 points to pace the Pirates followed by Brandon Miller with 14 points.

The Division 8-4A tournament will be held at St. Stanislaus beginning on Monday, Feb. 14.

The Pass Christian boys are seeded #3 and will play East Central on Monday. The Bay High boys are seeded #2 and will play on Tuesday evening against D'Iberville.

St. Stanislaus, the #1 seed and host team, will play Thursday, Feb. 17 at 5:30 p.m.

The Bay High Lady Tigers are seeded #1 and will play Thursday at 4pm against the winner of the #4 and #5 seed game. The Pass Christian Pirates' opponent was not determined as of press time.

Stanislaus's Klein & Ellis named to Mississippi/Alabama All-Star roster

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

Lee Klein and Jordan Ellis, both seniors at St. Stanislaus College, were named to the prestigious Mississippi/Alabama All-Star game team earlier this week.

The only previous Rock-a-chaw named to this all-star team was former LSU All-American and current Dallas Cowboys OL Stephen Peterman.

Klein (5-10, 210) was picked as a linebacker for the 36-player roster. He played both fullback and linebacker for the Rocks. Klein finished his career at SSC with 490 total tackles which ranks second all-time and is the career leader in tackles for loss with 55 for a minus-182 yards. On offense, Klein rushed for 267 yards on 53 carries and three scores.

He signed a scholarship to play for the United States Air Force Academy earlier this month. He was named the Sea Coast Echo's Defensive Player of the Year in 2004, as well as the Division 8-4A Defensive Player of the Year.

Also, he was named All-Division and MAC All-State first team.

Klein is expected to play linebacker for the Mississippi team.

Ellis (6-1, 235) also played fullback and linebacker for the Rocks. He was picked as a fullback for the Mississippi team.

Ellis carried the ball 41 times for 202 yards and three scores. He opened holes for SSC's first 1,000-rusher, Josh Duplessis, since 2000.

On defense, Ellis was the team's second leading tackler in 2004 with 107 total stops. He signed a football scholarship with Tulane University where he is expected to play linebacker. In 2004, Ellis was named to the Sea Coast Echo and All-Division teams.

SSC head football coach Casey Wittmann stated, "We continue to be very proud of the honors that Lee Klein and Jordan Ellis have received. This all-star game is the elite of the elite picked by the coaches in the state. This opportunity is one that they will carry for the rest of their lives. It solidifies their place as some of the best players in Mississippi." The game will be played June 4th at Ladd-Peebles Stadium in Mobile at 7 p.m.

SSC takes 2nd in regional powerlifting

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaw powerlifting team hosted the Region IV powerlifting meet on Saturday, February 5th at the new Blaize Fitness Center.

Chris Tran qualified for South State in the 114lb weight division. He placed second overall with a combined weight total of 705 pounds. He had a 235-pound squat, 160-pound bench press and 310-pound deadlift. Tran was SSC's first state medalist in powerlifting last year.

Dylan Drake and Ravi Varma both qualified for South State in the 132-lb division. Drake won the division while Varma was second.

Drake had a combined weight total of 865 pounds off a 320-lb squat, 195-lb bench press and 350-lb deadlift.

Stephen Keel placed second overall in the 181-lb division to advance to the next round. He had a total weight of 1,155 pounds. He posted a 425-lb squat, 270-lb bench press and a 460-lb deadlift.

Lee Klein won the 198-lb division with a combined lift total of 1,235 pounds. He listed a 405-lb squat, 330-lb bench press and a 500-lb squat.

SSC head powerlifting coach Casey Wittmann commented, "The meet went very well. We lost by only four points and it came down to just one lift that we were not able to complete successfully. We were very successful in qualifying seven lifters for South State competition which puts us in a good position for that meet. I am very pleased with their performances. We have had positive increases over the last few weeks."

The South State Powerlifting Championships are scheduled for March 12th at South Pike High School.

We, her family, appreciate the generosity and love shown to us in our hours of need and to our loved one all her life.

We thank you for your Prayers, your visitations, cards, bountiful foods, phone calls, floral offerings and most of all because you cared.

We thank the Pastor, Rev. Al Green and Grace's First Baptist Church Family for always remembering her, especially in the Wednesday Night Prayer Services and the Bereavement Committee.

Thank you, one and all.

"Oh how I miss you, my dear Son. I will always treasure your big arms around me every time you came by to say hello."

Love, Mom.

Paul G. Hundt

April 16, 1966 - Feb. 15, 2004

We will not forget you
Nor do we intend;
We think of you often
And will to the end.

Your death was like a blow,
Upon our heart it fell;
Called home without a word
Not even a last farewell.

We are thinking of you today,
Thinking of the past;
Picture you in memory
Just as we saw you last.

You are always in our hearts
Because we love you so;
You seem so close to us
Wherever we may go.

As we loved you, we miss you,
In our memory you are dear;
Loved, remembered, longed for always
For to us you were so dear.

Sadly Missed,
Your Loving Family

Pullman

Controversy began brewing in the community when Pullman announced plans to use the holding tank. Two other businesses had recently installed much more expensive wastewater treatment systems and some said that Pullman was being given special treatment because he serves as District 2 Supervisor.

Actually, according to a statement released by the director of health protection with the Mississippi Health Department Jim Craig, that does not appear to be the case. Craig says that when a sewer system is on the way, holding tanks may be used until the system arrives.

Craig states, "The Mississippi Department of Health does not permit central collection systems; we design and approve individual wastewater systems in rural areas of the state."

"Ruby's restaurant and the EZ Serve installed fully approved individual onsite sewage disposal systems. At the time both establishments opened for business, there were not plans to provide central sewage collection and treatment in Pearlington. Since that time the Pearlington Sewer Board and District has received approval for a central collection system and are in the process of moving forward with the system installation. Once plans are approved and funding is received the district can allow sewage holding tanks to be used until the system is in place. Therefore, the Pearlington District is following the provisions allowed. Hancock County also has an ordinance that allows individuals to use a holding tank if the Hancock County Water and Sewer Board permits it and monitors it. This matter is a decision made by the Hancock County Water and Sewer Board, not the Mississippi Department of Health."

Pullman said he was disappointed that people would think he would do something that was not right. "I knew from the beginning that I would need to do what was right," he said. "And I never planned on doing anything else. I plan to do the right thing."

Hancock Bank symposium to spotlight "Spectrum of Growth"

Wednesday, February 16, 2005, at the Hancock Bank Gulf Coast Economic Symposium, economic and business development experts will highlight the "Spectrum of Growth" that continues to nurture South Mississippi's evolution as regional powerhouse for economic vitality and a Gulf South hot-house for corporate and small business success.

Slated to begin with a complimentary continental breakfast at 7:45 a.m., followed by the main program from 9:00 a.m. - noon, this year's 39th annual symposium features eminent national economist Edmond J. Seifried, Ph.D. ("Growing America: The Economic Outlook for 2005"); Mississippi Power Company Chief Executive Officer and Momentum Mississippi Chairman Anthony J. Topazi ("Growing Our State: Momentum of Opportunity"); and Roger Dow ("Growing Your Business: Invest in People"), a former international sales executive with Marriott International, new CEO of the nation's premier travel industry organization, and a master at cultivating highly motivated, service-oriented workforces.

"Each year, we structure our program around issues pertinent to the area's ongoing economic development - the trends and the opportunities that affect all of us as we work to build a strong Gulf South economic infrastructure and maintain quality of life for all South Mississippians," said Hancock Bank President and CEO George A. Schloegel.

Since the mid-1960s, the Hancock Bank Gulf Coast Economic Symposium has served as a forum for some of South Mississippi's most influential business and civic leaders to garner exclusive, first-hand insights into conditions, initiatives, and partnerships shaping Gulf Coast growth and local, state, and national economies. Past symposium speakers have included some of the nation's most respected political figures, distinguished veteran executives of business and industry, prominent community development advocates, high-ranking military officials, and leading economic analysts.

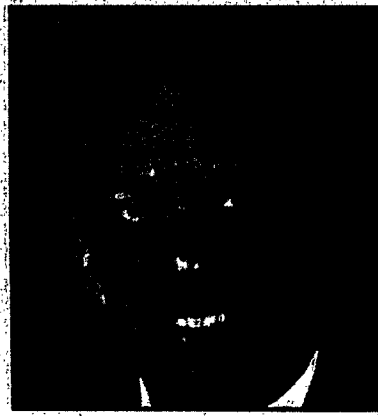

Advance reservations are necessary to attend the symposium. A limited number of reserved seats are

Dr. Edmond J. Seifried, professor of economics and business at Lafayette College in Easton, PA, is a nationally recognized authority on economic issues and forecasting techniques. He received his doctorate in economics and business from West Virginia University. He serves as dean of the West Virginia Banking School and as a faculty member at the Stonier Graduate School of Banking, Graduate School of Banking at Louisiana State University, Graduate School of Retail Bank Management, and the American Bankers Association Business of Banking School. He is a respected consultant to the banking industry and author of numerous academic and popular articles and books.

Seifried, a professional labor arbitrator, has delivered over 2,000 keynote presentations at regional, national, and international conferences across the United States and abroad. He has traveled extensively in the former Soviet Bloc countries as an advisor and consultant to newly privatized commercial banks. The chief economist for BNK Advisory Group (a community bank investment firm), Seifried has also served as a director of a community bank.

Mississippi Power Company President & CEO Anthony J. Topazi - a Birmingham, AL, native - became Mississippi Power's 10th chief executive leader in January 2004. Previously an executive vice president at Southern Company Generation & Energy Marketing, he began his Alabama Power career as a cooperative education student engineer and rose to numerous executive positions in the company's Birmingham and Western divisions. As chair of the Tuscaloosa County, AL, Industrial Development Authority, he assumed a primary role in recruiting the first Mercedes Benz automotive assembly plant outside of Germany to Alabama.

Topazi chairs Momentum Mississippi - an innovative public-private economic development partnership designed to boost the state's economic future - and served on the Blueprint Mississippi steering committee, co-chairing the economic development work team. Topazi serves on the Mississippi Economic Council board of directors, as vice chair of the Mississippi Partnership for Economic Development, as a member of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Economic Development Council and the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce, and as a Hancock Bank director. He earned a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering at Auburn University and completed Harvard University's advanced management program.

Roger Dow, president & CEO of the Travel Industry Association of America, previously led Marriott International's 10,000-person worldwide sales force as senior vice president for global and field sales. He became head of the nation's leading travel industry association in January 2005. During his Marriott administration, Sales & Marketing Management magazine recognized Marriott four times for the Top 25 Sales Forces, and Fortune named Marriott one of America's 100 Most Admired Companies and 100 Best Places to Work. He began his 30-year Marriott career as a lifeguard and eventually directed every aspect of sales and marketing - advertising, PR, promotion, sales training, compensation, and succession planning. He also developed Marriott Rewards, the world's foremost frequent traveler program.

Dow co-authored Turned On - Eight Vital Insights to Energize Your People, Customers & Profits, and The Trust Imperative - The Competitive Advantage of Trust-Based Business Relationships and co-founded The Leadership Forum, a coalition of the nation's most respected values-driven organizations dedicated to building competitive advantage through service leadership principles and practices. The Convention Industry Council tapped Dow for its elite Hall of Leaders, and Meeting Professionals International named him one of the industry's top leaders. Additionally, the American Society of Association Executives honored Dow as the twelfth recipient of the prestigious Academy of Leaders Award.

Barbour was welcomed by Superintendent Dr. Sue Matheson, students, faculty, administrators, and parents. Sewer -- rumors

Cuevas owns property in the area and that lines for the phases were drawn to favor that property. Cuevas said Friday that the rumors are absolutely unfounded.

"My home is actually in the Phase 3 area," said Cuevas. "The last area that will be completed. As for other property, I have nothing to benefit because I already have septic systems that are adequate there and enough property to handle the treatment. My concern is for the people who do live close together and who can't get building permits or go forward with development because they do not have adequate treatment."

As far as deciding where lines for the various phases would be drawn, Cuevas said neither he nor any of the board members had anything to do with the design portion of the system.

"None of us are engineers and none of us are qualified to design the system," said Cuevas. "We did help with some of the research for the CDBG Grant."

The board helped by gathering information on household income and other demographics needed to determine where lines would need to be drawn to qualify for the grant, Cuevas said. Demographics play a large part in determining eligibility for the CDBG Grant, which is based largely on income levels.

Phase 2 will be the first phase to get underway for two reasons, explained county engineer Geoffrey Clemens in a previous interview: Funding and the mechanics of the entire system. Phase 2 was the first to be funded. That phase qualified for a large CDBG grant because of the lower income base of residents living in that area.

"Those are free dollars," said Clemens.

Phase 2 also qualified for 592 Corps of Engineer dollars. State Revolving Funds (SRF) will be used for the 25 percent match for the Corps dollars, Clemens said. The mechanics of Phase 2 also made it the most feasible for first construction, said Clemens. Phase 2 has the most infrastructure needs and was the most expensive part of building the system, he said.

Likewise, Phase 1 was the next to be funded, Echer said, with Rural Utility Service funds (RUS) which is part grant and part loan. The money for Phase 1 is already in place. Before Phase 1 can get underway another third of an acre will have to be purchased for the pumping system. Phase 3 will be funded in the next phase of RUS funding, Echer said on Friday.

The funding agencies come in, look at the plans and decide what they want to fund, Clemens said. Decisions were not made overnight, but are the result of years of planning and working with funding agencies.

The board, working with the engineers also participated in choosing the type of system, said Cuevas. The vacuum system was chosen. The reasons are many, he said, including the fact that no electricity from the home is needed to work the system; the system itself becomes a part of the actual treatment process; the system is simple and most of the mechanics are at central locations, the pumping stations for each phase.

The system is very flexible and can be run around large trees and other obstructions and it is the best one for small populations using under a million gallons per day, said Gulf of Mexico Program Director Bryan Griffith at a meeting last fall.

"It is not flawless but is more trouble free than the grinder or gravity systems and offers the best bang for the buck in Pearlington," said Griffith. Who will supply the system depends on the bidding process. The system can be adapted to use with other systems if needed, later on, should there be an explosion of growth in the area, he said.

Those wishing to see how the vacuum system works are invited to a demonstration of the system at the Charles B. Murphy School on Tuesday, February 22 at 6 p.m., said Cuevas. A manufacturers representative will be on hand to answer questions. The Pearlington Water and Sewer Board meets the first Thursday of each month at the Pearlington Community Center.

Contraband

"A little after 2 p.m. Friday, a host of officers arrested Quenton Colson, 32, for delivering contraband to the jail. Justice Court Judge Tommy Carver set Colson's bond at $20,000 cash," Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt said.

"We discovered contraband last weekend at the jail, and have had a surveillance team at the facility all week," Hurt said.

Sheriff Garber said, "At first, we thought it may have been narcotics was trying to be delivered into the jail. But it was tobacco products, which have been banned (since) right after I became sheriff."

Hurt said "Officers which included jailers, narcotics agents and criminal investigators all swooped down on Colson to make the arrest. He was tossing the contraband to the area used by prisoners for exercise on top of the jail's roof."

Officers recovered three small packages of tobacco and wrappers from the jail's area.

Murder

According to Frank McNeil, chief of the Bay St. Louis Police Department, Alexis had been left in the care of a relative by Archelle Perret, the child's mother. The relative brought Alexis over to Boswell's residence. She was left with Boswell for a period of time, where she allegedly suffered fatal injuries.

According to Mississippi State Law, if a child dies as a result of, or in the commission of abuse, the case is considered a capital crime, and therefore punishable by the death penalty.

THIS DEVOTIONAL ADDED TO YOUR HOME BY THESE BUSINESSES WHO ENCOURAGE ALL OF US TO READY FOR SLEEP PRAYER

The Holy Bible tells us that the Lord hears the prayer of the righteous (Proverbs 15:29), and that we should approach the throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need (Hebrews 4:16). Daily prayer is important in our lives: it refreshes our soul and gives strength to the weary. Prayers of petition, thanksgiving, and worship are all essential to maintain and enhance a spiritual presence in our lives. Prayer should not be just a once-a-week occasion or for only when we are in a panic situation. The Bible tells us that the will of God for us is "pray without ceasing." Although at times, this may seem impossible, along with our necessary daily tasks, our attitude should be that God is always with us, like a good friend who is always willing and able to help. We would surely not hesitate to ask a good friend for help when needed, and of course a "thank you" is always in order for help received. Persevering in prayer, and recognizing that God is the source of everything in our lives, will build a relationship that will endure forever.

Hard realities of social security

"The Third Rail!" many people are calling it. With the same trepidation which grips anyone hovering close to the highly charged third rail of electric trains, politicians are approaching the Social Security dilemma, the biggest economic issue of this generation.

Believe me, layman that I am in such matters as these, I have much more reluctance, misgivings and doubts about sticking my toe into these murky waters. But here goes.

"You can't argue with success," the old saying goes. Perhaps, that is the best argument one can use in the discussion on the merits and the demerits of Social Security. "Which system works best overall?" may be the most basic question we must answer.

"If it ain't broke, don't fix it," is the other operating axiom which impacts the biting problem of Social Security. Well, it seems virtually all who are addressing the issue agree that SS is gradually becoming broken, and therefore needs at least a modicum of fixing.

Since we cannot argue, with success, where can we look for a group which has a viable program in the disposition of their Social Security? Any such group can provide a working template for our U.S. Congress and anyone else seeking a reasonable solution.

For the first time, at least for my ears, the Social Security system is being called a blatant Ponzi scheme. When I heard that, I plowed into what I could find on a Ponzi scheme. Simply, it is an illegal pyramid scheme named after Charles Ponzi who duped thousands of New England residents into a postage stamp speculation in the 1920s.

While no one calls the Social Security setup illegal, it has all the trappings of a pyramid scheme which rewards richly all investors at the ground floor level, but gives increasingly less to the newer investors who are needed to pay off the prior ones. In other words, the SS system has a built-in guarantee of eventual total implosion.

Payroll tax revenues are used to pay benefits to people who are currently collecting Social Security pensions. This method of financing is called pay-as-you-go funding. As pensioners multiply and live longer, more and more payroll tax revenues are needed, even though there will be fewer and fewer working people to pay them. Thus, not too many years ago, sixteen workers paid in to Social Security to take care of one retiree. Today, three workers take care of one retiree, numbers which will only get worse with the passage of time. This house of cards follows the rob-Peter-to-pay-Paul principle which, sooner or later, invites the chickens to come home to roost.

As for those who say the system is not broken, the system itself tells them: "Beware! I am a pyramid scheme. I consume ever more new workers. Without them I am dead. And one day I shall have more new workers than I can reward when they retire."

And current very young workers are guaranteed to get nothing out of their SS withholdings.

It is, therefore, evident that, in order to be able to pay off newer workers when they retire in years to come, the Social Security system has to engage in some form of investment of their current nest egg so that it will grow ahead of payback to retirees.

Supposedly, SS has a surplus right now which will hold for perhaps 13 years when the system begins paying out more than it takes in. But, with Uncle Sam in debt to the tune of over a half trillion dollars, perhaps that SS kitty exists mostly on paper.

Is there anyone to show the way? Well, we know where not to look. Great Britain gave us a Social Security template which we should use only as a what-not-to-do plan. Their multi-tiered, complicated plan bombed because ordinary people did not understand it, knew nothing about investing or even whether they should switch to private investment.

Unlike the British version, the American venture would not coerce workers to opt for the new system of private investment, and would put in safeguards to protect the ignorant from themselves and unscrupulous vultures in insurance and related industries.

"How will we pay for it?" is a question which involves giving benefits to actual and soon-to-be retirees.

Frankly, it stems from the pyramid nature of SS. Whether we procure billions by borrowing or taxing somehow seems to be a tiresome, irrelevant crapshoot.

Take, for instance, Galveston, Texas where government workers decided to follow a program set up for them by First Financial Capital Corp. in Houston. Instead of sending SS taxes to Washington, they deposited their before-tax income in private accounts which produce an average of 8.64 percent annual rate of return, over 400 percent more than SS.

Further, the Galveston plan allows workers earning $17,000 a year to retire at 65 with a monthly payment of $1,285 compared with the SS payment of $782. Also, retirees may take their benefits in a lump sum or an annuity, while SS provides only an annuity.

This 1979 Galveston plan has never lost money, weathering double recessions in the 1980s, recessions in the 1990s and into 2000, including wars in Afghanistan and Iraq. Congress should take a long, hard look at anything this successful.

Abroad, Chile opted for the privatization of their Social Security system 15 years ago, boosting pensions 50 to 100 percent higher, achieving 40 percent of the resources of the GNP by 1995, improving capital, the labor market, savings, lessening unemployment, and doubling the growth rate of the national economy.

If Congress considers Social Security such a good system, why don't our congressional women and men subscribe to it for themselves? Since they are our public servants, why do they, our servants, place themselves above us in their selection of health benefits?

After all, we are their masters, as they claim in their title of public servants. Do they indicate awareness of something we don't know by refusing to pay into Social Security, the grandest Ponzi scheme of all time? Legislator, bind thyself before binding us! What is good for us, the masters, certainly has to be good enough for you, the servant.

Logically, before the servants make any special, gainful arrangements for their own financial future, they should first make the same special, gainful arrangements for us, their masters. Surely, they have read the command of the world's greatest Philosopher:

"The greatest among you must be your servant."

(Matthew 23:11) Is the problem, perhaps, that our congress people, our public servants, are not really the greatest, but a motley bunch of pretenders?

Scripture Says...

Bible Prophecies

And I will put enmity between you and the woman and between your seed and her seed; he shall bruise your head, and you shall bruise his heel (Genesis 3:15).

Thousands of years later, this took place at Calvary's Hill. Jesus suffered on the cross; and that death crushed Satan's authority forever (Galatians 4:4).

In Isaiah 7:14, that prophecy speaks of a virgin bearing a son, and his name shall be called Emmanuel.

In Micah 5:2, prophecies that the Christ would be born in Bethlehem. Five hundred years later it took place there's predicted.

Prophecies in Mal 3:1 speaks of the messenger preparing the way of the Lord (Luke 7:24, 27). Here, John the Baptist comes on the scene.

The book of Psalms 2:7

declares the son of God fulfilled in Matthew 3:1. This is my beloved son, in whom I am well pleased.

In chapter 53 of Isaiah, it clearly speaks of the suffering and death of Jesus. Psalm 22 also speaks of his death on the Cross. The four gospels have much scripture on Christ dying on the cross for the sins of the world (Romans 5:6, 8).

Hundreds of predictions were made in the old testament that were fulfilled in the New Testament.

Th chances of these prophecies coming to pass exactly as predicted, would be astronomical. Yet, they were fulfilled as predicted. The Bible has stood the test down the centuries, because it is God's letters to the world.

By the way, have you read His letters lately?

Artists wanted for 'Art for the Environment' benefit

THE SEA COAST ECHO

On Sunday, Feb. 27, from 2 to 5 p.m., an "Art for the Environment" fundraiser sponsored by Sierra Club will be held at Ellis Anderson's Key of the Sea in Bay St. Louis, one of the few designated Historic Landmarks on the Gulf Coast.

The events will include an art auction, live music by the Rochelle Harper Band and other groups, wine, beer, and plenty of great food.

The Key of Sea is located two blocks from the beach, and the entire house and grounds with their magnificent live oaks will be open for the event.

In the past year, Sierra Club worked with other groups to successfully stop a 24-acre wetlands fill near the Bay of St. Louis with toxic waste from DuPont. Sierra Club is continuing the effort by appealing a permit application by DuPont DeLisle that would increase air pollution for a 25 percent expansion. Lawsuits and lobbying require money, and Sierra Club needs help to fulfill its mission of working to protect the environment and people's health.

Donated artwork can be dropped off at Da Beach House in Bay St. Louis during the week before the event.

Artists will receive written confirmation of their donation for tax purposes and an invitation to the event. For more information, call Sierra Club at 228-872-3457 or Ellis Anderson at 228-467-7279.

History professor to speak at MS Sound Museum

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Dr. Pat Smith, history professor at USM, Gulf Park Campus will speak about John J. McCaughan at the Mississippi Sound Historical Museum, 1300 24th Avenue, Gulfport, on Wednesday, Feb. 16, 7:30 p.m. McCaughan, a state senator, was a visionary who in the 1840s foresaw the Gulf Coast as it is today. He founded Mississippi City, where he wanted to put a port and the south end of the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad.

He was instrumental in forming Harrison County and came within one vote of having the University of Mississippi located in Mississippi City.

PBS' 'American Experience' profiles sexologist Kinsey

By John Crook
© Zap2it

PBS profiles the scientist whose studies of human sexuality divided the U.S. public in "Kinsey," an "American Experience" episode premiering Monday, Feb. 14.

The Valentine's Day timing is fitting, since this 90-minute documentary poignantly underscores how sexologist Alfred Kinsey first went public with his controversial studies in the 1930s at Indiana University, where his in-demand "marriage classes" were aimed at reducing fears and misinformation on the part of newlyweds, most of whom had no practical knowledge of how sex "worked."

It was a subject with which Kinsey had painful personal experience. Sexually inexperienced himself at 27, Indiana University professor Kinsey married 21-year-old undergraduate Clara McMillen, but the marriage went un consummated for several frustrating months until the couple discovered that an undiagnosed physiological problem on Clara's part could be corrected with a simple surgical procedure.

Stunned by how little practical information about human sexuality was available to young couples, Kinsey took it upon himself to fill in the gap with his own research, which he shared in his marriage classes.

"He equated ignorance with pain and the absence of joy," Kinsey biographer Jim Jones explains during the PBS film. "What he wanted to do in the marriage class was to give people information, to give them what he saw as the tools, the equipment they needed to understand their own sexuality."

Kinsey's research eventually led to the 1948 publication of his book "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male," which had an impact that another Kinsey biographer, Jonathan Gathorne Hardy, compares to an atomic bomb.

That A-bomb image also figures in "Kinsey," the current hit movie starring actor Liam Neeson in the title role. That engrossing and hugely moving film is enhanced by this companion documentary, which includes extensive commentary from people who participated in Kinsey's original 1940s and '50s interviews.

Celebrity Scoop

Jorge Garcia

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Fans of ABC's Wednesday hit "Lost" take pleasure in unravelling the show's mysteries and enigmas, but cast member Jorge Garcia says he and his colleagues had no trouble deciphering the fact that they were in the middle of something special.

"We get reports of the numbers as they come in pretty immediately," says the actor, who plays burly castaway Hugo "Hurley" Reyes on the series.

"The (ratings) we got for the first episode, especially for 18- to 49-year-old males in our time slot that wasn't a sports show, were really huge. So when we walked into work the next day, they said, 'We hope you like it here, because we may be in Hawaii for a while.' And the audience just keeps growing and growing from word of mouth."

Garcia, who supported himself working in a bookstore part time and doing stand-up comedy while waiting for his break, says he finally is turning heads when he goes out in public. A recent bowling outing with fellow "Lost" actors Dominic Monaghan, Evangeline Lilly and Matthew Fox, for example, set off a minor fan frenzy.

"We were signing photos and T-shirts between just about every frame," he says. "It was pretty wild."

Although "Hurley" was introduced in the pilot mainly as comic relief, a big guy who fainted at the sight of blood, Garcia says he's very happy with how his character has developed.

"I love that we're seeing different colors and aspects to Hurley," he says. "I want to do some cool movies, and a role like this will help me skip some steps. Tomorrow, we start filming Hurley's story, and it's so cool to see how the little tidbits you know fit into the whole 'Twilight Zone-y' thing that's going on."

Birth date: April 28, 1978
Birthplace: Oxnard, Calif.
Family: Garcia is a physician and former basketball player; his mother works in education; his sister, a teacher.
Education: B.A. in communication studies, University of California at Los Angeles.
Bitten by the bug: First considered becoming an actor after appearing in a musical in junior high school.
Guilty feelings: Filming the pilot for "Lost" forced him to miss two weddings: his sister's and a friend's in South Africa.
Previous TV series credits: Hector Lopez on "Beverly Hills, 90210" (2003-04).
Coming up: Two films: "Little Athens" and "The Good Humor Man."

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Feb. 13 through Feb. 19, 2005

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

A chance to volunteer could change your life in more ways than you expect. Giving of yourself does not mean giving up yourself.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

Social connections are what you're looking for, so find a group of people with which you identify.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

Communicating your desires on the job could get you everything you wanted. If not, at least you'll feel better for speaking up.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

A short trip could lead to a desire to spend more time away from home. You've always had a love of travel, so this is nothing new.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Contract negotiations will go much better if you tell people what you really feel. Honesty will get you much more.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

A relationship will benefit from honest emotional communication. You do have feelings. Maybe your partner forgot that.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Charity work will feed your soul more than anything else has in recent months. Doing good will have you feeling good.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

You will have the support of others to implement your ideas, which may be unconventional. Faith will make them work.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Home is where the heart is. If you can't resolve the problems at your house with honest communication, it may be time to leave.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

Emotion is what people say you sometimes lack. To prove them wrong, talk about how something big in your life made you feel.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

Money spent on bringing you to spiritual awareness is money very well spent. You've been searching, and now you can find.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

Emotions run high right now, and you may say things that are truthful but not tactful. People will forgive your indiscretion.

Sports Best Bets

By Mark Passaro
Zap2it

"NBA Basketball" Sunday, Feb. 13 (ABC, 1 p.m. ET): Sure to be billed as a potential finals preview, the San Antonio Spurs visit the Miami Heat to tip off an NBA doubleheader. The marquee matchup pits Hall of Famers-to-be Tim Duncan and Shaquille O'Neal under the basket, where Shaq got the better of his Spurs counterpart statswise but lost the scoreboard battle in their first meeting this season. San Antonio caught a break then: Heat guard and MVP candidate Dwyane Wade sat out with an injury.

"NFL Football" Sunday, Feb. 13 (ESPN, 7:30 p.m. ET): Super Bowl quarterbacks Donovan McNabb of the Philadelphia Eagles and Tom Brady of the New England Patriots lead a star-studded crop of the NFL's 84 best players in the annual Pro Bowl game from Honolulu. McNabb is among seven Eagles who were tabbed as starters on the NFC team, while Brady and the Chargers' Drew Brees will back up AFC starter Peyton Manning of the Colts. The Vikes' Daunte Culpepper and Atlanta's Michael Vick will follow McNabb.

"NASCAR Racing" Thursday, Feb. 17 (FX, 1 p.m. ET): Speedweek at Daytona International Speedway continues today with two qualifying races that will set the starting lineup for Sunday's Daytona 500. Formerly the Twin 125s, the newly named Gatorade Duel at Daytona is now a pair of 150-mile qualifiers, with the added length designed to facilitate more pit work. A year ago, Dale Earnhardt Jr. held off Tony Stewart to capture the first qualifier, then went on to win his first "Great American Race" three days later.

Tim Duncan and the San Antonio Spurs pay a visit to the Miami Heat Sunday on ABC.

Be mine already! Valentines to (and from) TV characters

By Jay Bobbin, John Crook and Kath O'Hara
© Zap2it

Ah, love... that wonderful emotion that sometimes goes unexpressed properly. Not only does that hold true in real life, but also in the worlds of many popular TV shows. We'd like to help in this week of St. Valentine's Day, so here are romantic misadventures some characters might send to others.

We smile, we flirt, we kiss, we fight. Sometimes, it's due to kryptonite. I caused your family tragedy. Although it wasn't up to me. I never meant to cause you pain. Full disclosure? I refrain. Someday, I may explain my part. For this time, now, you have my heart. (Clark to Lana, "Smallville")

I burned the mac and cheese for stans. Got locked out wearing less than pants. I've hurt your dog. I've snooped around.

Where love's concerned, I'm not profound.

While you look great without a shirt. Remember, Mike, that I've been hurt. My valentine just says that I'm still praying you will give me time. (Susan to Mike, "Desperate Housewives")

It's against the rules, that's half the fun. Who knows what Jack would think of what we've done?

But it's not like I haven't broken rules in the past.

There's the question of a dead man that was put to rest.

You were beautiful and damaged, right there every day. Who could blame me for things going this way?

Because sometimes when you live your life on the edge, it's only to a fellow climber your heart you can pledge.

(Martin to Sam, "Without a Trace") Ever since I came to this small town, you've sent my spirits up and down. On love, I'm glad we took a chance. Even if it meant you wouldn't dance. My piano did get in the way. But I promise that will change. OK? Madison was then. You are now. Please let me have your trust somehow.

(Ephram to Amy, "Everwood")

You loved my homemade pasta dish. So let me grant another wish.

Mike, let's be frank. I'm very hot.

That's something Sue Q is not.

I've never had a guy complain.

Don't let this chance go down the drain.

So be my valentine, Sir Plumber.

And I'll be yours. (At least, till summer.)

(Eddie to Mike, "Desperate Housewives")

My timing stinks; that's all I can say. Something finally sparks, and things turn out this way.

One moment you were up the slope, the next in my arms.

And, hey, a little extra hug time can't cause any harm.

But then the team's split up, the shifts all changed.

Half of G's squad is yours, and ain't that a shame.

When you were my colleague, we might've had a chance.

Now that you're my boss, we'll never dance that sweet dance.

(Warwick to Catherine, "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation")

When you returned, my knees went weak.

Despite the fact I'm hardly meek.

Amy and Ephram (Emily VanCamp, Gregory Smith) have had many romantic ups and downs on the WB Network series "Everwood" Mondays. If only one of them could send just the right valentine...

In the courtroom, I still strike fear.

But when you whisper in my ear?

I'm the man stop the firm.

But blessed by you, I'm just a worm.

You drive me wild. Please feel the same.

At least, please! Please! Just say my name!

(Denny Crane to Shirley Schmidt, "Boston Legal")

Throughout that "Race" I carried you.

You're lucky that I married you.

Because you lack my charm and wit.

You never helped our team a bit.

You threw up all that spicy soup.

You hopeless hag! You nincompoop!

You have no guts. You lack a spine.

Shut up and be my valentine!

(Jonathan to Victoria, "The Amazing Race 6")

Same night, different network for actress

By Jay Bobbin

Q Anna Belknap of "Medical Investigation" looks familiar. I thought she might have been in "Family Law." What else have we seen her in? Karen Winkoff, Massapequa, N.Y.

A With her current NBC show, she has the same Friday time slot she was in for a while last season on a different network. With lighter hair, Belknap played Lily, one of the undercover agents on the short-lived Joe Pantoliano CBS drama, "The Handler."

Q What is the status of the "Law & Order" spinoff that was to have starred Jerry Orbach? Mildred Zawacki, Ogden, Utah.

A At this writing, NBC still intends to premiere "Law & Order: Trial by Jury" before the end of the current TV season. The widely-liked Orbach died while production of the series was on a holiday break, and the show's makers have been working to develop a character - and find an actor - to fill the spot left by Orbach's Lennie Briscoe... or try their best to, at least.

Q Why is it that the movie "The Snake Pit" with Olivia de Havilland has never appeared in the thousands of "oldies" on TV? Wally Smith, Battimore.

A Actually, it has. Not only has AMC shown it, the 1948 classic about a mental institution - which featured Celeste Holm and Natalie Schafer ("Gilligan's Island") as well - turns up every few months or so on Fox Movie Channel.

Q I remember a weekly series that starred Marlee Matlin and Mark Harmon. Her character was a district attorney, and he played her investigator. What was the name of the show, and when did it air? Barb Lloyd, Zanesville, Ohio.

A That was "Reasonable Doubts," an NBC drama that ran from 1991 to 1993, and starred Matlin as A.D.A. Tess Kaufman and Harmon as Detective Dicky Cobb. Cobb's girlfriend was played by Nancy Everhard, who also has appeared as the late Colin's mother on The WB Network drama "Everwood."

Soap Talk

Average Joes and Janes get a chance at soaps

Cameron Mathison

If you're lustful to join the action in Pine Valley, SoapNet's reality series "I Wanna Be a Soap Star" will be holding auditions in February and March in Chicago, Los Angeles, and New York for its next group of contestants. The grand prize is a role on "All My Children."

The 10 selected finalists live and are filmed 24/7 on the set of a soap opera as they work toward their dream. One of the tests that the wannabes are given is a cold read, during which they pretend they are at a general meeting with a casting director, who hands them a script, then puts them on camera without giving them a chance to work on the material.

That's how I got my job on "All My Children," series host and "AMC" star Cameron Mathison admits. "I went in for a general meeting. I got put on tape and got a screen test from it. So this is something that we incorporate into the show because it happens."

Check out <http://www.soapnet.com> for the dates and locations of auditions.

Over at "The Bold and the Beautiful," Linda Gray makes a brief return as Priscilla on Feb. 25 and 28; and Sarah Buxton returns under contract as Morgan DeWitt beginning March 4. Her story line begins when Morgan is released from prison.

In other casting news, A.J. Lamas has left "As the World Turns." Starting Feb. 24, the role of Rafael will be played by Michael Cardelle.

Dear Paulette: Did the handsome Eric Forrester (John McCook) of "B&B" ever play a role on "The Young and the Restless"? Also, where is the old Bridget Forrester? I heard she might become the new Victoria Newman of "Y&R." I hope so! -Sue B., Jim Thorpe, Pennsylvania.

Dear Reader: John McCook did play Lance Prentiss on "Y&R" from 1975 to 1980. As for the old Bridget Forrester, if you mean Jennifer Finnigan, who played the role from 2000 to 2004, she is not looking for a return to soaps. Finnigan is starring in NBC's new comedy series "Committed."

A family barbershop is sold, and its young manager (Marques Houston) acquires a new co-worker: the new owner's daughter (Shannon Elizabeth). It also stars Shondrella Avery ("Napoleon Dynamite") and Rashaan Nall, who reprises his "One on One" guest role.

George Lopez

George (George Lopez) can have that box of memorabilia from his childhood, but it'll cost him. When he asks Beriny (Belita Moreno), who has possession of the mementos, to give them to him, she demands payment. That opens the door for George to confront some hurtful truths from his youth in the new episode "George Takes a Stroll Down Memory Lane."

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

According to Jim

Cheryl (Courtney Thorne-Smith) plays culinary Cyrano for Dana (Kimberly Williams-Paisley) in the new episode "Guess Who's Cooking Your Dinner?" Dana wants to show off her cooking skills to her boyfriend. Only trouble is, well, she doesn't have any. So she asks her sister to create a killer meal for which she can take credit.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Dr. Phil Primetime Special: Romance Rescued

Dr. Phil McGraw came to prime time last fall with advice for families with troubles — uncommunicative parents, bratty kids, potty-training issues. In this new special, he does the same for grown-up relationships, advising, among others, an engaged couple whose prenuptial agreement deals not with money but with such issues as chores and sex. He also helps a woman who rarely gets asked out twice by feeding her advice during a date.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

Veronica Mars

A teacher at Veronica's (Kristen Bell) school is accused of sexual harassment. He's her favorite teacher, in fact, which means she and her father (Enrico Colantoni), who's representing his accuser, are on opposite sides. Veronica tries to help Logan (Jason Doherty) get to the truth about his mom. Percy Daggs III and Francis Capra also star in the new episode "Mars vs. Mars."

8:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Rodney

It's Valentine's Day, and Rodney (Rodney Carrington) wants to give Trina (Jennifer Aspen) an engagement ring, as he couldn't afford one when they got engaged. Perhaps it's the holiday rush, but the jeweler makes a disastrous mistake with the stone. Charlie (Amy Poehler), who's getting married on the holiday, wonders if she and Kirk (Todd Stashwick) will be as happy as Rodney and Trina. Nick Searcy also stars in the new episode "The Ring."

8:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Committed

In "The Mother Episode," Nate's (Josh Cooke) mom, Lily (guest star Valerie Harper), who's in a mental institution, doesn't like Mami (Jennifer Finnigan), and Mami is frantic to change that. She agrees to take the older woman out to lunch, and you can probably guess the outcome: Lily goes on the lam. Tess (Tammy Lynn Michaels) asks Clown (Tom Poston) to help her get noticed by a cute neighbor. Darius McCrary also stars in the new episode.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

In the new episode "Hooked," Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Chris Meloni) investigate the murder of a teenage girl who turns out to have been involved in prostitution and pornography. The fact that she contracted HIV from the latter pursuit leads them to her murderer, but the case is complicated by a second killing... and a second killer.

February 13 - 19, 2005

Alles
Sydney and Nadia (Jennifer Garner, Mia Maestro) clash over Nadia's relationship with Sloane (Ron Rifkin) in the new episode "Detente." Sloane is worried about Nadia's safety, while she and Sydney go under cover together as a pair of irresponsible heiresses to track down a lethal chemical. Victor Garber, Michael Vartan and Carl Lumbly also star.

Law & Order. In the new episode "The Sixth Man," Fontana and Green (Dennis Farina, Jesse L. Martin) have two suspects of possible suspects and motives in their latest murder case. The victim's landlord desperately wanted him gone so the building could go co-op. Also, the man was a gambler, which might mean an angry bookie or loan shark. But fingerprints point to a third suspect: a basketball player with whom the victim was fighting.

Movie: Matchstick Men
The arrival of a con man's alleged daughter isn't well timed for the supposed dad in director Ridley Scott's enjoyable 2003 comedy drama. Nicolas Cage plays the skilled but obsessive-compulsive swindler approached by a young woman (Alison Lofman, "Big Fish") who wants to get to know not only him, but the tricks of his trade. Sarah Rockwell ("Confessions of a Dangerous Mind") also stars as Cage's literal partner in crime.

The West Wing
With the New Hampshire primary only five days away, and Santos (Timmy Smiley) shut out of all upcoming debate between the front-runners (Tim Matheson, Gary Cole), a desperate Josh (Bradley Whitford) decides to stage another debate. Santos hires a new hand: a woman (guest star Mary-Louise Parker) whom Josh used to date. Allison Janney and Janel Moloney also star in the new episode "Freudonia."

Lost
Sawyer (Josh Holloway) is feeling harassed by a wild boar in the new episode "Outlaws." While hunting for the animal, he and Kate (Evangeline Lilly) share some secrets. Charlie (Dominic Monaghan) hasn't been the same since his close call, which has Hurley and Sayid (Jorge Garcia, Naveen Andrews) worried. A connection between Sawyer and Jack (Matthew Fox) causes some shock waves.

MythBusters
The new episode "The Brown Note" will strike a chord with fans of "South Park," which mined this urban legend for comedy gold a few seasons ago. Co-host Adam Savage is the guinea pig for an experiment to determine whether a low-frequency sound can cause the human body to ... let's just say involuntarily perform a function that most of us have learned to control. Another segment examines the realism quotient in movie car chases.

In Focus

While maintaining his successful syndicated talk show, Dr. Phil McGraw makes his second foray into network prime time with "A Dr. Phil Primetime Special: Romance Rescue" Tuesday, Feb. 15, on CBS.

The psychologist travels to assist people whose relationships are in trouble. One couple has a prenuptial agreement covering much more than money and assets, while a woman gets advice about dating... while she's on dates, she has to a hidden transmitter Dr. Phil uses to give her guidance.

Matching the week of each episode's airing to the week when the events it covers actually occurred, the History Channel series "The Last Days of World War II" premieres Friday, Feb. 18, by recalling the roots of the battle of Iwo Jima.

Weapons were at hand for most of the soldiers, but many of them resorted to extremely physical and brutal man-to-man combat. Japanese forces upped the intensity of their assaults as the United States proceeded to pour on military pressure.

One day before he defends his Daytona 500 victory, Dale Earnhardt Jr. tries for his fourth straight win in the Busch Series season opener, which this year is dubbed the "Hersey's TAKE 5 300." Familiar Nextel Cup faces who will oppose Earnhardt include last year's fourth-place finisher Kevin Harvick, Kasey Kahne and Michael Waltrip, while 2004 Busch champion Martin Truex Jr. leads that series' lineup of drivers.

Movie: The Green Mile
Two-time Academy Award winner Tom Hanks may be the biggest name in this 1999 adaptation of a Stephen King novel, but he's far from the biggest presence. That would be Michael Clarke Duncan, who earned a best supporting actor Oscar nomination for his performance as John Coffey, a condemned prisoner with supernatural gifts, including the ability to heal others. Hanks plays a sympathetic guard who experiences Coffey's powers firsthand.

7 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: Backdraft
Director Ron Howard's 1991 firefighting saga has an impressive cast, but its true "stars" are the stunning sequences of actual blazes — accomplished with few injuries. Kurt Russell and William Baldwin play fireman brothers involved in the search for an arsonist. Robert De Niro, Donald Sutherland, Scott Glenn, Rebecca De Mornay and Jennifer Jason Leigh co-star.

Movie: Ladies' Night
Insurance investigators looking for embezzled money stumble on the trail of a serial killer in this new suspense drama. The murderer preys on female bank employees — seducing them, persuading them to steal money, then rubbing them out. As the investigators dig deeper, they discover there are two killers: a father and son. Colin Ferguson ("Coupling"), Claudette Mink ("Alfie") and Paul Michael Glaser ("Starsky & Hutch") star.

Oscar winner Susan Sarandon guest stars in this new episode as a sexy gold digger visiting relatives. Former show regular Mo'Nique also plays a visit, reprising one of her most popular characters: the cantankerous Lorraine. Ike Barinholtz, Frank Callendo, Daniele Gathers, Keegan-Michael Key, Bobby Lee, Michael McDonald, Nicole Parker and Arles Spears also star.
